OUR LEGACY

PHILIPP WOLF I
THE SILVERSMITH

1836 - 1896

Philipp Wolf I was originally a jeweller and silversmith situated in Hanau, a city at the heart of the goldsmithing industry in Germany. Philipp crafted boxes to enhance the presentation of his own pieces. The success of this idea led him to focus solely on crafting exquisite boxes for his fellow artisans.

PHILIPP WOLF II
THE BOXMAKER

1869 - 1946

Philipp Wolf II, an accomplished boxmaker, moved to Sweden in 1895. In 1910 he married the love of his life, Ida Wilhelmina Peterzon. Sadly, following the tragic loss of two of their five children to Spanish flu and rickets, Philipp became inconsolable, he retreated from work and life. After suffering from profound mental health issues he passed away in 1946.

IDA WILHELMINA PETERZON
THE TRAVELLER

1889 - 1991

When Philipp II could no longer work, Ida assumed control of the business to support her family, Philipp Wolf III, Ernst, and Anna-Lisa. She travelled across Sweden and Scandinavia, by rail and carriage, selling the factory's products from a large wooden trunk. Ida's tenacity and resolve sustained the WOLF business through a most challenging era.

CELEBRATING 190 YEARS

PHILIPP WOLF III
THE FISHERMAN

1911 - 1993

Philipp Wolf III pioneered many innovative production techniques for WOLF, some still in use today and is renowned for inventing the iconic musical pirouetting ballerina box. Philipp's environmental foresight has shaped WOLF's commitment to global responsibility, a legacy carried through the generations.

PHILIPP WOLF IV
THE AVIATOR

PRESENT

Philipp Wolf IV, born in 1936, immersed himself in the box business from a young age, assisting his father in the factory. Moving to the UK in 1960, he met and married Judie within a week. Philipp established a new factory in Llanelli, South Wales, in 1968. Philipp would fly customers from London to Wales in his Beechcraft Staggerwing D17S, following his passion for flying whilst running his business.

SIMON PHILIP WOLF V
THE DESIGNER

PRESENT

In 1985, Simon joined the family business. As the UK thrived, Simon was set the challenge to enter the USA and Canadian markets. Simon spent over 30 years establishing a successful business, returning to the UK in 2021. Inspired by Philipp III's environmental ethos, Simon implemented many sustainability initiatives, including most recently pursuing the Positive Luxury Butterfly Mark. As Creative Director and CEO, he leads a global team of over 60 people, driving WOLF towards the future with a focus on design, innovation, and sustainability.

Protect your legacy with WOLF

SUSTAINABILITY

“In the 1940’s my grandfather, Philipp Wolf III could see the effect we were already having on the environment. It is in our DNA to leave, across all areas of our company, as small a footprint as possible”
Simon Wolf, CEO.

All WOLF products are handmade from quality materials using sustainable materials and recycled elements wherever possible; every product is simply made to last a lifetime or longer.

Recycled packaging, solar panels on our offices, sending products by sea rather than by air whenever possible, always putting the environment first.

WOLF is currently working towards the Positive Luxury Butterfly Mark through a rigorous ESG+ assessment across our global operations.

Protecting your legacy, protecting the planet.

Honouring Craft at Every Level

Labour

Our workshops and the people who work in them are the bedrock of our business. We provide safe working conditions, liveable wages and work hard to ensure equal labour rights. Because the quality of life of our artisans directly affects the quality of our products and because we care about our impact on the environment, we also ensure that our factories meet emissions standards and practices.

Impact is in the Details

WOLF
Packaging

We only use recyclable, sustainable and eco-friendly packaging that is made of 70% post-consumer recycled waste. So you can feel good about unboxing your WOLF product as all packaging can be re-used or placed in a recycling bin.

Leather, Reimagined

WOLF
Recycles

Our CEO Simon Wolf has continued his family legacy in many ways, including a deep commitment to environmentalism and protection of animals. To protect your legacy, which is WOLF's core aim, we must do our part to protect the health of the planet. All of our watch winders are wrapped in 100% vegan leather; because the highest quality and luxury can also be sustainable.

New and Innovative Packaging

WOLF
Materials

At WOLF, we only use certified FSC 100% recycled paper, certified recycled corrugated cardboard and 100% recycled cotton and polyester materials. Our new accessories collection is 95% sustainable, with materials made from recycled PVC, apple pulp and plastic bottles.

Minimising Effects on Planet Earth

WOLF
Change

WOLF has a long history of caring about climate. Philip Wolf III wrote about 'climate change', in his book, 'Land Drainage and its Dangers as Experienced in Sweden', 58 years before the term had been coined. Philip wrote on subjects related to how we were already affecting the climate of the earth.

Family Legacy of Conservation

WOLF
Conservation

Simon Wolf's grandfather created the Swedish Salmon and Trout Association. The inauguration took place in August of 1948 when he opened Håstad Mill. As a lifelong fisherman who cared deeply about the water quality and the impact the fishing industry had on the planet, it was one of his greatest achievements that continues to inspire Simon Wolf's commitment to conservation.

PATENTED TECHNOLOGY & DESIGN

WOLF, the intelligent choice

WOLF watch winders count Turns Per Day, others use time to estimate rotations.

WOLF watch winders have Return To Start - return your watch back to the same position you chose to start it in.

WOLF watch winders have Dynamic Lock-In Cuffs, one cuff adaptable for three wrist sizes securely holding your watch in the winder.

BLUETOOTH USER-CONTROLLED APP

The WOLF Bluetooth app allows you to name your safe or cabinet and customise each winder, from number of Turns Per Day and direction of rotation to interior lighting and on/off timers.

Use the app to register your safe warranty, contact customer service and shop online.

Simply download from the App Store or Google Play.

PATENTED TECHNOLOGY & DESIGN

Our jewellery cases feature LusterLoc™

Jewellery begins to lose its luster with air contact and our patented LusterLoc™ formula neutralises the process. LusterLoc™ protects your jewellery for up to 35 years.

PATENTED TECHNOLOGY & DESIGN

Our wallets and cardholders are RFID protected

RFID or Radio Frequency Identification are the information tags transmitted by bank cards and wireless payment cards.

We use an RFID blocking material sewn into the lining of all our wallets and laptop cases that cloaks the signal, rendering it unreadable by scanners used by identity thieves.

PHILIPP CHRISTOPH WOLF I

THE SILVERSMITH

1836 - 1896

Every story has a beginning, ours began in 1834 with one simple concept from our visionary founder Philipp Wolf I.

“It is logical to protect one’s possessions by storing and safeguarding them in a fine quality case.”

Philipp was originally a jeweller and silversmith by trade situated in Hanau, a city in the heart of the goldsmithing industry in Germany, and made all manner of items in silver including jewellery and cutlery. He started making boxes so that he could present his pieces beautifully, he just thought that they looked better that way. He did this for some time until he realised that he had hit upon something not done before. This was the genesis of the boxmaking tradition started all those years ago. Fairly quickly he stopped his silversmith business and concentrated on crafting exquisite boxes for his fellow artisans.

When Philipp II became unable to work, Ida took it upon herself to take the reins of the business to support her husband and children, Philipp Wolf III, his brother Ernst and sister Anna-Lisa. Ida would travel great distances throughout Sweden and Scandinavia by rail and horse-drawn carriage to sell whatever products the factory could make in a large wooden banded trunk. Ida's sheer will and determination is what kept the WOLF business alive through a most difficult time in history.

PHILIPP WOLF III

THE FISHERMAN

1911 - 1993

Philipp Wolf III was a true visionary. Following in the footsteps of his boxmaking parents he joined the business.

The WOLF factory was in Malmö, Sweden. Here Philipp would not only develop numerous new production techniques and processes, many of which WOLF still use to this day. He is renowned for inventing the iconic musical pirouetting ballerina box, which would become one of the most famous jewellery boxes in the world.

In 1948 Philipp III purchased Håstad Mill near Lund, Sweden. The mill was where he created the Swedish Salmon and Trout Association. He cared deeply about the environment and before the term “climate change” had ever been coined he could see what the effects farming and humans were having on the rivers, fish and health of the waterways. This deep-rooted responsibility for the world has continued through the future generations of WOLF, all thanks to Philipp III.

PHILIPP WOLF IV

THE AVIATOR

Born in 1936, Philipp Wolf IV took immediately to the box business, helping his father as a young boy by making samples and spending time at the factory. His love of aircraft showed early as he spent hours gazing at the aircraft at Sturup airfield. His passion of the technical and mechanical came to light fully when he took the reins of the company years later.

By the late 1950's Philipp had completed a degree and later, in 1960 moved to England after meeting Judie, they married after a week of knowing each other. Now in the UK, Philipp IV was given the edict by his father to build a factory and so plans were developed to start box production in Llanelli, South Wales and after a year of planning, ground was broken in early 1967 and the 100,000 square foot facility was completed in 1968.

Philipp Wolf IV had a love of flying, obtaining his private pilot's license at an early age. Living near London the drive to South Wales was long, so he would fly to Swansea airport, taking customers and suppliers in his beloved Beechcraft Staggerwing D17S from Biggin Hill to the factory in Wales, saving hours of driving on the road.

COLLABORATIONS

As the saying goes “a perfect match, made in heaven” and so it is with the utmost of consideration that we choose the company we keep. Our collaborations are rare and highly selective, Bea Bongiasca, Royal Asscher and WM Brown grace the following pages with innovative design twists that give a perfect nod to both brands.

BEA BONGIASCA

WOLF continues to revolutionise the art of crafting boxes in this collaboration with innovative jewellery designer Bea Bongiasca. Inspired by seventies swagger, the collection consists of jewellery boxes, jewellery trays with lids and travel-ready mini jewellery cases and even a safe, all in eye-popping colour combinations and kaleidoscopic patterns.
